1 x night drive.

Katavi National Park is indeed very remote; it is quite a wild place where the enormous authenticity of Africa will leave you breathless.

Day 2, 3 and 4: Safari in Katavi National Park. The days are spend exploring this vast wilderness on foot and by safari vehicle. Most days you will return to camp for lunch, with more game watching and exploring through the afternoon. You will not meet many other vehicles or two legged beings. Late afternoon you return to camp for dinner.

Day 5: To Mahale National Park and chimpanzee-safari. You are taken back to the Katavi airstrip and fly northwards to Mahale. Upon arrival you are met and transported to the camp by boat on Lake Tanganyika.

Three nights at Mahale, in a camp on the shores of Lake Tanganyika, your huts are wooden and thatched. All meals, local drinks/house wines and laundry is included and 1 chimpanzee-trek per day, usually a full day. Other activities included are snorkelling, boating, kayaking and fishing.

Day 6 and 7: Safari in Mahale National Park. Mahale National Park is one of few places where you can experience chimpanzees in their natural environment. You walk/trek to get near them, which can take some time, when you find them you are allowed to spend some time around them. Snorkelling in Lake Tanganyika or a boat ride to try your luck fishing can also be a good idea of how to spend a day. Lunches are either picnics or in camp, breakfasts and dinners always in camp.

Day 8: Beaching it at the Indian Ocean

Today you will be transported by boat back to the Mahale airstrip for your flight to Daar Es Salaam, also in a small aircraft. In Daar Es Salaam you are met by your transfer driver and will be taken to your hotel on the beach.
